ANCHORAGE, ALASKA
AR No. 2018-94

A RESOLUTION OF THE ANCHORAGE MUNICIPAL ASSEMBLY RELATING TO CERTAIN CONVEYANCES TO THE ALASKA RAILROAD CORPORATION UNDER THE ALASKA RAILROAD TRANSFER ACT OF 1982 AND SUPPORTING HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION 38 IN THE THIRTIETH LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF ALASKA.

WHEREAS, construction of the Alaska Railroad began shortly after Congress authorized construction in 1915 and was substantially completed in 1923, extending from Seward, Alaska to the Fairbanks vicinity; and

WHEREAS, the Alaska Railroad was operated by the federal government from completion through 1982; and

WHEREAS, the Alaska Railroad was transferred to State of Alaska in 1982 with ongoing asset transfers, including the right-of-way; and

WHEREAS, in its 1914 enabling act, Congress granted the federal Alaska Railroad rights-of-way for the construction of authorized "railroad, telegraph and telephone lines," similar to easements granted under the General Railroad Act of 1875 held by most post-1871 railroads in the United States; and

WHEREAS, this easement is reserved in federal land patents in Alaska where applicable; and

WHEREAS, in certain areas the Municipality of Anchorage is the successor in interest to lands affected by the simple easement, including parks; and

WHEREAS, prior to the Alaska Railroad Transfer Act of 1982 (ARTA, 45 U.S.C. §§ 1201-1214), the municipal governing authority of the Anchorage area and the Alaska Railroad had a commendable working relationship relative to road crossings, use of the right-of-way, parks adjacent to the easement, and related interactions; and

WHEREAS, during the asset transfer referenced above the U.S. Department of the Interior erroneously transferred non-federally owned property to the state-owned railroad through an "Exclusive Use Easement," potentially including municipal property interests; and

WHEREAS, the interim or actual conveyance of any "right, title and interest" in property not held in federal ownership on January 14, 1983, is contrary to the Alaska Railroad Transfer Act of 1982 and to privately held property rights recognized by common law; and

WHEREAS, in its typical legal effect property owners of land burdened by an easement continue to have a substantial common law interest and remaining rights of use in the easement area; and

1 WHEREAS, an "Exclusive Use Easement" as defined in ARTA allows the railroad total
2 discretion to arbitrarily fence off the easement and bar other users; and

4 WHEREAS, the creation and transfer of an exclusive use easement adversely affects the 5 property rights of the MOA in parks, crossings, and utility relationships relative to the track
6 easement; and

8 WHEREAS, the transfer of an arbitrary right is detrimental to the proper relationship
9 between the MOA and the Alaska Railroad; and 10

11 WHEREAS, the Alaska State Ombudsman investigated certain areas of conflict relating to 12 the railroad and municipalities, including the MOA, beginning in 1988 and issued a Special 13 Report dated Nov. 16, 1989 specifying the problems and making recommendations for 14 correction; and 15

16 WHEREAS, the situation has not been satisfactorily resolved and restored to a proper 17 relationship; and 18

19 WHEREAS, the Old Seward/Ocean View Community Council and the Taku Community
20 Council have passed resolutions in general opposition to the exclusive use easement, and 21 the effect thereof, including the Residential Right-of-Way Use Permit program of the 22 railroad; and 23

24 WHEREAS, the Alaska Legislature is currently considering House Joint Resolution 38,
25 sponsored by Representative Chuck Kopp and co-sponsored by Representatives Tuck, 26 Drummond, Birch, Wilson, Knopp and Rauscher, that expresses the will of that body that 27 the Alaska Railroad Corporation shall have no authority over any right, title, or interest in 28 land conveyed pursuant to the Alaska Railroad Transfer Act of 1982 which was not vested
29 in the United States at the time of transfer, and 30

31 WHEREAS, the Alaska State Legislature believes that any right, title, or interest not 32 conclusively owned by the federal government at the time of the Alaska Railroad Transfer 33 Act of 1982 that was erroneously conveyed to the Alaska Railroad Corporation, and certain 34 interests in land conveyed to the Alaska Railroad Corporation without the legislative 35 approval required under AS 42.40.285, should be disclaimed as a matter of law; now, 36 therefore.
37

38 BE IT RESOLVED that the Anchorage Assembly endorses and supports passage of 39 HJR38 which is incorporated herein by reference.

Dear Representative Kopp,

I own an Alaska based business, Dimond Capital Company, LLC which owns property abutting the Alaska Railroad right of way in South Anchorage. In addition, I own the Red Robin business that operates on that property.

I want to express my support for HJR 38. It is important to me as a property owner to restore my property rights as a successor to the original Alaska homestead. I purchased this property in 1993. It is subject to the original homestead of Lionel Tietse from 1952.

Following development of this property with the Dimond Red Robin restaurant, the Alaska Railroad charged me to store snow during the winter months on a part of their easement that did not interfere with the safe operation of the railroad. As such, I was paying the Alaska Railroad to store snow on property that was actually owned by me.

I want to assure you and the Alaska Railroad that we will continue to work with the Alaska Railroad in a positive way to insure the safety and transportation opportunities as they occur. However, I believe that the Alaska Railroad has abridged my private property rights and that those rights should be restored.

Thank you very much for your sponsorship of this resolution.

Respectfully,

Fred Rosenberg

RE: Letter in support of HJR 38

To whom it may concern:

Dimond Center Holdings LLC is in full support of passage of HJR 38.

Dimond Center was developed starting in 1977 by Joe C. Ashlock and today is still Alaskan owned and operated. It is Alaska's largest mixed use retail center with 12 million annual visits and a tax value of well over 80 million dollars.

The land under Dimond Center was purchased directly from the original homesteader, the Tetze family. It is therefore subject to the Homestead act in which we own the property to the center line of the railroad right of way (along the western border of Dimond Center) subject to the Railroad Act of 1914.

The exclusive use easement that the AK RR surreptitiously received not only clouds our title but the inability to excess and denial of use constitutes an economic taking of millions of dollars! While the ownership of Dimond Center supports the safe operation mission of the Alaska Railroad and has in the past supposed efforts for intermodal use and development. We feel the HJR 38 will correct an egregious wrong done to the property rights of homestead successors throughout Alaska.

Sincerely,

Rep. Kopp,

Thank you for your assistance in trying to set right a terrible wrong committed by the AKRR in their efforts to take away our property and claiming it as theirs instead of the right-of-way Easement it was meant to be. It is criminal for the AKRR to threaten us and pursue this action.

As 34 year residents of our home on Jarvi Dr. in Anchorage, we support your efforts on HJB38. I wish I could write more but I am limited in time. I have spent day and night in hospital facilities by my husband's side for the last 5 months. I am told he is dying. He is a veteran whose illness and disabilities are directly related to his service of our country. His and my goal is to get him home...to be at peace. We don't need the AKRR robbing us of the peace of mind that we still live in a country where our property rights and homes are secure and protected by his military sacrifice and those of others.

Thank you for your help.

Representative Kopp,

Thank you for standing up for property owners along the rail line that runs from Seward to Fairbanks. As one friend said, "there are thousands of people who will be affected by the AK RR closing off large portions of their ROW, some of whom have RR tracks running through the center of their property!"

I would put forth that this will impact tens of thousands. Let us not forget that the AK RR also runs through cities and towns which have developments that are almost on top of the tracks, and some of them have roads that run over them.

I understand the RR's need to ensure safety and stop from killing animals by building fences and other barriers to the tracks. But, there are also families and businesses who depend upon the free and clear use of their land to survive.

There are state Right-of-Ways all over this state and we all live in relative harmony while freely using those rights of ways as a part of our property. We understand that if it is needed, the state can come in and take it (while compensating us for the loss of the use of any additional land impacted by their actions).

Actions of this nature by the Railroad will cause immeasurable harm to many Alaskans. The decades the RR has run through us all have been fairly uneventful. Let's keep it that way and not open the courts up for lawsuits from disenfranchised landowners.

Thank you for your on-going efforts and support of our shared values.

Sincerely,
bethf ;-)

My family the “Therriault’s” are owners of the remaining portion of a US patented homestead located in North Pole, Alaska. For a number of years now we have had issues with the Alaska Railroad regarding reversionary and subsurface rights.

In 1946 Carl Finell submitted his homestead entry #06169 on 6/20/46. In 1947 the Alaska Railroad extended a spur line to Satellite Field (now known as Eielson Air Force Base), this spur line essentially bisected Finell’s homestead on the diagonal. Mr Finell was notified by the War Department that the railroad would traverse his property.¹ In 1949 Mr. Finell received his final patent US Patent #1127840 file #F06169 for the full 160 acres located in Section 9, Townsite 2, S., R.2 E. Fairbanks Meridian. Within the Patent was the reservation for the railroad right of way.

An there is, also, reserved to the United States a right of way for the construction of railroads, telegraph and telephone lines in accordance with the Act of March 12, 1947 (33 Stat.305) Excepting also, from the conveyance those certain pipeline and telephone lines, and all appurtenances thereto, constructed by the United States through, over, or upon the land herein described, and the right of the United States, its officers, agents, or employees to maintain, operate, repair, or improve the same so long as needed or used for or by the United States.²

Although under the 1914 law the Alaska Railroad had the ability to receive full title to the property through commendation, the federal government chose to instead use the traverse easement.

...to construct and build a railroad or railroads along such route or routes as he may so designate and locate, with the necessary branch lines, feeders sidings, switches, and spurs; to purchase or otherwise acquire all real ad personal property necessary to carry out the purposes of this Act; to exercise the power of eminent domain in acquiring property for such use, which use is hereby declared to be a public use by condemnation in the courts of Alaska in accordance with the laws ow or hereafter in force; to acquire rights of way, terminal grounds, and all other rights, to purchase or otherwise acquire all necessary equipment...³

Mr. Finell continued to exercise his ownership to the property and issued an easement to GVEA on _____. The GVEA easements parallels the AK RR and is within the easement areas. On September 15 1969 my family purchased the remaining acreage for the Finell homestead including the acreage which the Alaska Railroad traverses.⁴ While we have never objected to the Alaska Railroads ability to operate as a railroad we at no time ever relinquished any of our property rights.

In 2005 the Alaska Railroad moved to close what is known as the Ruby Crossing on our property. Our argument continues to be that the crossing should have remained open since it was the Alaska Railroad that crossed the property not that the property crossed the easement.⁵ During our discussion regarding the crossing closure we discovered that the Alaska Railroad had approached Congress to repeal sections 1208 and 1209 the Reversionary Clause of ARTA.⁶ By requesting this repeal the Alaska Railroad has taken away the right for property owners to easements return to them if the Railroad no longer used the corridor.

It was also during this time that we learned that the Railroad is also collecting royalties on the fiber optics within our property. As a US patented homestead predating Alaska's statehood my family has the surface and subsurface for this property. Since the United States did not construct this fiber optic line, nor is the line owned by or needed for the United States, the reservation language should not apply. In fact there have been a number of class action suits regarding fiber optics royalties that have recently been settled in the lower 48 states.⁷ We have continued to request an agreement be negotiate for a reasonable settlement to the use of our property with the Alaska railroad.

I believe that House Joint Resolution 38 is a good start. While we have never objected to the Alaska Railroad having an "exclusive" right to operate as the only railroad using the easement we do not believe that the United States government had the right or interest to transfer an "exclusive easement" which would diminish our property rights. In fact this issue has been known by the railroad for some time. In the Legislative Staff Reports to the Alaska Legislature this issue is raised.⁸ For example, section 611 specifies that an "other disposition" is subject to valid existing rights, which introduces confusion.⁹

Related to this issue is the question of other third-party claims particularly outstanding against railroad holdings. These possible claims consist of other private sector interest which may have been established over the years on portions of the railroads 38,000 acres. Right-of-way lands appear to be the primary area where this type of problem is likely to exits. Indications suggest that in magnitude there are probably not that many problems of this nature. It should also be pointed out that our research suggest here is little to be gained by attempting to address this question in federal transfer legislation versus dealing with it later on a case by case basis.¹⁰

The major area of disagreement was the treatment of the purported claims against railroad properties.¹¹ Since transfer the Alaska Railroad has continued face issue related to prior existing claims.¹²

Senator Hughes,

My family has owned property along the Alaska Railroad Right of Way Easement in the Bootleggers Cove area of Anchorage since the 1950's, and it is now occupied by my son and his wife. When my parents first bought the property and later built their home in 1958, they were aware of the easement, and considered it not to be an issue based on their understanding of its purpose. The area in the Right of Way is a landscaped yard with a hedge, and a portion of it contains a small overlap of a nice looking storage shed. The next door neighbor also shares a retaining wall with the property that has some footage extending into the Right of Way.

I object strongly to the AK Railroad's new "Exclusive Use" interpretation of the easement along with the current $775 "Residential Right-of-Way" permit fee. The railroad is charging almost $65/month to keep the Right of Way in better shape than it would do otherwise; and has changed the original easement drastically, taking away rights from property owners and transferring them to the railroad. If the annual fee is not paid, then the railroad has even threatened to place liens on all affected property. This situation affects all of the property owners along the railroad easement state wide, not just property in Anchorage.

Proposed HB 93, introduced by Rep. Chuck Kopp, prohibits the railroad from claiming the new "exclusive use" and trying to collect fees from private property owners. It also affirms that the railroad continue to retain the previous standard right of way, which would still prohibit private property owners from using the easement property in a manner that would interfere with railroad safety.

Please support this legislation and contact Representative Chuck Kopp's office and consult with him if you have any questions, as he is leading the initiative to solve this inequity.

Thank you,

RE: HJR 38

Representative Kopp, I am still amazed this issue is still ongoing and has not been resolved in the Alaska property owners favor. After the U.S. Supreme Court ruled in Brandt v. United States in 2014 that the federal government had no property interest in government grant rights of way that were not still owned by the United States, NARPO finds it hard to believe that the State of Alaska could still claim a property interest in the rights of way along the Alaska Railroad. The federal government had no property interest in these rights of way when the land was transferred in 1983. As early as 1904 the predecessor of the BLM, the Bureau of Land, declared the federal government had no property interest in government grant rights of way that were patented or other wise disposed of--I supplied you last year with a copy of that federal regulation.

Hello,

I am an Anchorage resident in the South Turnagain neighborhood and am contacting you in regards to my concern and support of HB93. My neighborhood has been severely impacted by the Railroad's claim over public right-of-way land, a claim they have no right to make. Please consider the rights of Alaskans and the abuse of power by the Railroad and support this bill.

Below is a statement written by constituents that form the Fish Creek Trail to the Ocean group that has worked for the past year to organize a productive fight against this overreach of power:

Since the State acquired the railroad from the federal government in 1983, The Alaska Railroad Corporation (ARRC) has consistently implemented measures which restrict compatible uses of the right-of-way (ROW) by adjacent property owners. Advancing its agenda under the guise of safety, ARRC policies include the Residential ROW Use Policy (RRUP), which extorts adjacent landowners who, contrary to ARRC's claims, hold an ownership interest in the land beneath the tracks. ARRC is demanding payment of annual fees and filing liens against those who do not comply. Rep. Chuck Kopp has introduced House Bill 93 to protect private property rights. This legislation will guarantee that adjacent property owners have reasonable ROW access and compatible use that does not impede safe railroad operations. Please support this important legislation for the benefit of all Alaskans. Thank you.

Dear Representative Kopp:

This letter is in support of House Joint Resolution No. 38.

I am a property owner affected by the Alaska Railroad easement. Alaska Railroad's attempt to re-characterize the railroad easement on my property as an "exclusive-use" easement is an illegal taking of my property rights, a cloud on the title to my property and has a detrimental effect on the value of my property – as well as hundreds of other Alaska property owners adjoining the railbelt.

I am also a lawyer that has extensively researched this issue for a client in the Oceanview area. I have reviewed, and strongly support the legal analysis and statements in your HJR 38 Overview and Backdrop as well as the contents of Resolution 38 itself.

I thank you, Governor Walker, and the others who are working to correct this matter. Please share my input and support with members of the Judiciary and State Affairs.

Subject: Railroad Guidance Bill
Date: Wednesday, February 15, 2017 10:59:55 PM

Dear Alaskan Legislator:

Thank you for considering this important bill intended to give assistance to Alaskans who encountered a negative response in dealing with the railroad corporation.

Historically, the railroad was intended to be one of the conduits toward development of private lands for the new state. The federal government made homestead properties available to Alaskans toward the development of the private sector to help support the state. The railroad corporation has acted oppositely instead. Abutting properties may have a single access across the railroad tracks. The railroad impolitely labels the owners whose surveys precede the railroad's own US Survey 9009, the Alaska Railroad Transfer Survey and a dependent survey as CRIMINAL TRESPASSERS while the homeowners are paying taxes to the municipality of Anchorage.

The railroad has gated people out of their properties, changed locks; interfered with a State of Alaska permitting application for a driveway with two agencies thus not allowing agencies to conduct their own regulated permitting systems. The properties are becoming delapidated and construction experts are having to experience the loss of quality of the property. This is a taking of property rights and is actionable at this time.

Please show Alaskans their property rights are important to the state and give this needed guidance to the railroad as contained within HB 73. The railroad does not currently have a permitting system at all for stopped at grade crossings. Their handbook 1986 is still the current one and they do not follow it. The railroad refuses to cooperate with the homeowner so as to schedule to have the homeowner's surveyor measure for sight lines that are required, exist and meet FRA guidelines for stopped at grade crossings. But to impede the homeowner the railroad does not allow the home owner's surveyor come out. A very bad business practice.

Any examples generally of attempts at permitting of stopped at grade crossings for fully qualifying applicants are rendered moot by the real estate department. Phone calls result in the homeowner's calls being forwarded to the railroad corporation police.

The homeowners are ridiculed and labeled and published as criminal trespassers as they go to their homes. There is no excuse for this. The railroad has sent formal trespass warnings to a minority/native homeowner to attempt to intimidate off of their property. The railroad causes people to want to sell their property who otherwise wanted to keep their cherished family properties. When the homeowner caves in and sells the railroad requires that the proceedings be secret. This should be public knowledge when it is a pattern to dislocate adjacent property owners. The railroad has said its primary goal is to get rid of all private crossings. The railroad did not say their primary goal is to make money. They have a large cadre of attorneys in the corporation and the legal department runs the railroad corporation so the corporation culture is insular and is intransigent about seeing the rights of other Alaskans and their properties continuing to have their full bundles of rights. The railroad appears to be out of compliance with CFR 49 or have no knowledge of it. Federal law of takings means these things occur before taking any of the bundle of rights: appraise, negotiate, pay first before taking is the procedure not just take development rights, accesses (for all Alaskans) and plan for disposal before even noting that is what the corporation is doing. Some properties still have the mineral rights attached so this is a big damage. So willfully harmful to adjacent Alaskan homeowners.

Instead of the railroad being a conduit to development it is merely a stranglehold of any nearby properties.

It has been many years since the railroad transfer act. Direction and clarity delivered to the railroad now will help restore the equities to damaged adjacent property owners all along this offending rail line. Please do all you can as Alaskans to help other Alaskans in Alaska. This is likely the most important bill this session which you can be proud to support.

Sincerely,

Draft

Dear your honorable Alaska Representative Kopp,

I support and encourage your relentless fight to take back Alaska for the Alaskans from the corruption set by the Alaska RR Corporation to extract money and its citizens land use set by ownership, while working outside the rule of law as I understand it. My parent called this "strong arming and stealing"

"Since the State acquired the railroad from the federal government in 1983, The Alaska Railroad Corporation (ARRC) has consistently implemented measures which restrict compatible uses of the right-of-way (ROW) by adjacent property owners. Advancing its agenda under the guise of safety, ARRC policies include the Residential ROW Use Policy (RRUP), which extorts adjacent landowners who, contrary to ARRC's claims, hold an ownership interest in the land beneath the tracks. ARRC is demanding payment of annual fees and filing liens against those who do not comply. This legislation will guarantee that adjacent property owners have reasonable ROW access and compatible use that does not impede safe railroad operations. Please support this important legislation for the benefit of all Alaskans.

Thank you."

Dear Representative Kopp and Members of the House Resources Committee;

I would like to let you and the House Resources Committee know that I support passage of HB93. I think this is a very good action and would have a positive effect on the neighbors of the Alaska Railroad, and very little, if any, negative effect on the Alaska Railroad. Please forward a copy of this email to the Members of the House Resources Committee. Thank you.

Senator Natasha von Imhof
State Capitol Room 514
Juneau AK, 99801

Dear Senator Natasha von Imhof,

For years, the Flying Crown Homeowners Association has been subjected by the Alaska Railroad Corporation to ever increasing fees for transitory use of a portion of the Railroad ROW to access our established residential airport. We have always believed this requirement to be inappropriate, since we join the Railroad in a desire to maintain safe, secure operations.

Recent implementation of the RRUP program highlights the Railroad's quest for unreasonable control of the entire ROW, even though they only need and use a portion of it. Their demand for permits and fees does nothing to ensure safety, as their mantra would suggest.

Most noteworthy is the fact that the "exclusive use" they claim was never intended by those who crafted the transfer to State ownership. In fact, much of the ROW covered by the 2006 Patent issued by the Department of the Interior had previously been patented to other parties in the 1950s, with simply a reservation for a surface easement for continued operation of a "railroad, telegraph, and telephone." Thus the later patent stripped the rightful landowners of their property, without notice or compensation.

House Bill 93 serves to prohibit the Railroad from charging property owners for use of their own land, and bars them from restricting use that does not affect safe railroad operations.

We urge you to act favorably on this legislation, as it goes a long way to properly restore private property rights so important to all Alaskans.

In Support of HB93

To the committee members

Please support HB93.....

I am a retired attorney. For 20 years until 2006 I owned an interest in two title insurance agencies in Anchorage, and practiced insurance defense law.

HB93 helps to restore the rights of several thousand Alaskans along the rail belt affected by an "over conveyance" of rights during the implementation of the transfer of the federal railroad assets to the state (1982- present).

My wife Peggy and I bought in Anchorage in 1980...originally a part of land patented in 1951 by Holden. We are next to Ocean View Park.

We succeed to Holden's interest in both the lots and the railroad easement 'adjacent' to them, subject to the surface easement of the railroad for rail and related operations.

The lots and easement are legally part of the conveyance. Legal rights to the area of the easement pass together with the "adjacent" parcel through the common law "centerline presumption" recognized throughout the US. Sponsor Kopp has research material for your study if requested.

The easement was a part of the 1951 patent, and is a "patent reservation" for the railroad. All patents in Alaska concerning the railroad have the same reservation.

The reservation is 200ft. wide but the railroad clears not more than about 35 feet on each side of the track. Photos of the equipment being used has been provided to Rep. Kopp. The cleared width has not changed during the time we have been here.

The cleared width seems adequate for the railroad use. Loads on the railroad are restricted, without special permission, to 10' 8". Tunnels and bridges apparently restrict load widths.

Beyond the cleared area there is a ditch about 4 feet deep and then moose bushes. We have a row of lilac bushes approximately 50 feet from the centerline of the track. Inside the lilacs we have lawn and then our house.

We have left the railroad free to do as it wishes beyond the lilac bushes. We have received no complaints of safety problems caused by Peggy's garden, lilac bushes and grass.

In a 1982 letter to the US house committee considering the transfer Gov. Jay Hammond referred to the 1914 easement for 'railroad, telegraph and telephone' as the "standard" rail easement in Alaska. Actually it is the national standard.

The patent reservation language comes from the 1914 Alaska Railroad Act. That language was borrowed from the nearly identical 1875 General Railroad Act which creates the easement for 70% of all track mileage in the US.

The claimed exclusive use easement created by the DOI and the railroad for privately held property in Alaska is unknown anywhere else in the US.

I do not see why the Alaska Railroad needs easement rights exceeding those of these other well-run railroads.

The transfer act did not contemplate the DOI and ARRC changing property rights during transfer and for that reason no notices of the transfer or actions taken in the transfer were published or sent to property owners affected. No "taking" was announced. No provision for compensation was made for the simple reason that no property changes were contemplated in the transfer.

The "over- conveyance" of rights and the application of exclusive use seems to be based on the assumption that Congress intended to change the terms and conditions of hundreds of decades-old and vested land patents.

This view places the integrity of the 1982 congressional delegation and the Governor at that time in grave doubt, and without justification. Two of them were homesteaders themselves. Surely there was no such intention and a contrary suggestion is plain wrong.

Why are you now hearing about this matter probably for the first time?

In 2012, long after the DOI /ARRC actions were recorded, and specifically based on the new "exclusive use", the railroad notified us and others in Anchorage that they were imposing a "residential right-of-way use permit" (RRUP), requiring us and eventually all private property owners on the 500 miles of track to get a permit to use our own lawn and garden, and requiring all to pay the railroad a fee or a tax.

There is no way for the property owner to have become aware of the many conveyances that the DOI issued for exclusive use since 1982. No actual or constructive notice to the property owner exist because of the way the land title "index" works and the fact that no actual notices were required in the transfer act.

We do recognize the railroads interest in safety. An exclusive rights easement on private lands is not the solution, with or without the tax.

It is true that people are injured / killed because they walked down the tracks. I know no incident in which any such person accessed the tracks over private property. In South Anchorage the problem is caused in three areas: (1) road crossings such as Ocean View Drive, (2) proximity to parks such as Ocean View Park and Ocean View Bluff Park, (3) anywhere that the track is close to a roadway. This latter situation includes essentially everything from the bottom of Potter Hill to Portage. People stop by the roadside, get out of the car and walk across and down the tracks.

The problem should be solved where the problem exists, and not elsewhere. The railroad already has trespass statutes and a police force to handle this problem.

Another stated concern has been derailment. Charging homeowners for their lawns and gardens is not a solution. If the train comes off the track it is going to be very difficult to coax her back on the track by waving a permit or a canceled check.

The Old Seward Ocean View Community Council formed a committee to review this matter, resulting in a resolution opposing RRUP and asking for elected officials to help. Rep. Kopp has a copy. Rep. Kopp has heeded our call, and we hope that you will join in the effort to restore appropriate and balanced rights.

While HB93 does not directly return the “over-conveyance” to the 1200 or more property owners, it does set common sense operational standards for the railroad to follow and alerts the property owner to their rights relative to the easement.

Please support HB 93.

Dear Rep Kopp,

I thank you for introducing HB93 to the Alaska legislature. I am your constituent of AK - District 24, residing at 13650 Jarvi Drive. I do not understand what gives the Alaska Railroad the right or the power to obstruct my use of my land unless I pay a rather steep annual fee. Seems like extortion to me.

Please continue your supportive activities regarding HB93 and urge other members of the Legislature to support you as well. It is a good bill as it provides a fair solution to both the Railroad's claims of public safety and the adjacent landowners' claims for unobstructed use of their (our) private property. This legislation guarantees that adjacent property owners have reasonable ROW access and compatible use that does not impede safe railroad operations.

Let's enact this bill immediately!

Representative Kopp,

This letter is in support of HB 93, the bill addressing landowner property rights and the Alaska Railroad. There are many landowners along the rail belt that deal with, and have dealt with, issues concerning the Alaska Railroad and the rail itself for decades.

In Talkeetna, we get thousands and thousands of visitors each summer. The museum staff talks to between 150 and 200 of those visitors every day. We convey our history and its link to the railroad. One of the main reasons Talkeetna exists is the Alaska Railroad. We are in support of ARR running a safe and secure system for visitors, for local residents and for freight hauled from the north. However, many residents have also been strapped with undue or onerous regulation to access their property. Talkeetna and Chase are places where the railroad and private property owners get entangled. Homeowners have lands that abutt the rail, some even ride the rail to access their homes. Talkeetna itself has quite a bit of land that is owned by the railroad that is not actually in the rail ROW.

As we wade back through history and our past, we believe that HB 93 will help restore landowners rights of access and ownership and at the same time keep the ARR safety regulations in place.

Thanks for your consideration.

My name is Larry S. Lau. I have been working with Alaska Native land title issues since 1972. The Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act (ANCSA) was passed in 1971. My experience includes that as a Native corporation Regional Planner, Resource Manager for a regional corporation, and village corporation Land Manager. I have taught classes at Alaska Pacific University and given ANCSA and Section 14(C) classes in Anchorage, Fairbanks, and villages since 1992. I've worked as a consultant to ANCSA corporations, tribes, and municipal governments over the last 25 years.

I'm familiar with some of the Alaska Railroad R-O-W issues directly---as a person who deals with the property rights of ANCSA corporations and those who have valid rights protected by village corporation title; and one with family members owning property within the R-O-W.

I support passage of HB 93 as it seems to adequately address the concerns of many title holders along the R-O-W. I've included a requested memo by the Oceanview Community Council (Anchorage) clarifying "ANCSA title property rights" within the R-O-W. You may find this useful.

Please contact me with any questions using the information below.

Thank you very much for what you do!

RE: Alaska Railroad R-O-W Issue, Alaska Railroad Transfer Act (1982)

John,

We have been communicating about this issue for more than a year. You are aware that I have been working with land title issues in Alaska since 1972, when I began working directly with the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act of 1971. Because of this background, you have asked me to comment on Section 1205. As you know, I am not an attorney.

In particular, you have asked me to comment on this portion: "B) Where lands within the right-of-way, or any interest in such lands, have been conveyed from Federal ownership prior to January 14, 1983, or is subject to a claim of valid existing rights by a party other than a Village Corporation . . ."

Summary:

I have been informed that personnel in the U.S. Department of the Interior and Alaska Railroad believe that this phrase refers to homestead lands under the federal Homestead Act (1862).

1. It doesn't.

2. This phrase refers to interim conveyances (ICs) and patents of village corporations established by the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act (1971), Section 14(C); and to pending Native allotments under the Native Allotment Act (1906). Village corporation ICs and patents carry with them various types of claims that were not adjudicated as of 1982 (and still aren't); and many of which were within the railroad easement. These ICs and patents constitute a "top filing." And, they "run with the land," meaning that subsequent landowners to village corporations incur their liability if unadjudicated by the village corporation.

To Alaska State Representatives,

My name is Bob Bradley and I am the President/CEO of The Bradley Company LTD, LLC and O'Malley Square LLC. I would like to let you know why I am in support of HB 93.

In 2005 The Bradley Co was developing 6 acres of prime Real Estate in South Anchorage. During construction, in the permit review stage, the Municipality of Anchorage had us do a site review for Storm Water Management. During this review we found it necessary to move this storm water from the end of South Gamble Rd to O'Malley Road where there is a major collector. In this process the only access to O'Malley is to use the Right of Way behind the South Anchorage Lowe's store to O'Malley Rd. We set up a meeting with the Railroad Board of directors and the Railroad Real Estate division. Our reason for this meeting was to find out what was in the easement and how do we work together to make this happen. After all the talk about what was in the easement the Railroad informed us that they owned the easement and they are not willing to let us into the easement because they have future plans for that area.

In our Recorded Plat it shows an easement for the Railroad of 200' wide plus another 17' of easement onto our property. Though we own the property we cannot use it to move over 1.5 million gallons of storm water per every 2" of rainfall. When we went back to the MOA regarding these findings they thought they could talk with the Railroad and make this happen. The MOA came back with the same response we received. The MOA approved our limited drainage plan for 3 acres of land where our 100,000 sf class A office building sits. We have been unable to develop any more property until all the storm water issues are resolved. If we were to have access to this easement the storm water could flow to O'Malley Rd and we would be able to develop more office/retail and put an extra $1.5M back into this economy annually.

Thank you
Bob Bradley

I feel that it was not the states intent to restrict, deny or otherwise inhibit activities, hiking, berry picking, hunting by cutting off access to public and private lands that have been traditionally used by many Alaskan residents for years. Right now we have lost our public access at lower Trail Lake because of the Railroad locking a gate and displaying trespassing signs. This is just one small example of what this action by the Alaskan Railroad has done by overreaching its mandate. I do hope that you will look at this issue and we will be following this to see where we go with correcting this unfortunate action by the Alaskan Railroad....I have always believed that the states intention with this is to provide access to Alaska residents and businesses but not restrict access for our traditional ways. Please consider what this recent successful attempt to exclude the public from many of the states trails, lakes and private lands means to us that get out and enjoy our state and promote our state tourism. We and many others believe that is so misguided and unfair to Alaskan residents not to mention our tourists.

Thanks for standing up for our private property rights. We are still trying to understand how our state-owned RR was able to get a second federal land patent recorded over our Homestead deed.

Isn't this why we have the Constitution and the 5th amendment? What happened? The new patent says the RR can fence us out of our own property at any time for any reason. We were never notified about any of these changes or given any opportunity to defend our rights.

Thanks again for representing us Rep Kopp. I'm sure there will be many more property owners joining the fight soon when they find out what happened.

Rep. Kopp and Committee:

Thank you for considering important changes to the rail road use and right-of-way for Alaskan property holders. My wife and I support HJR 38 as a means to allow private property holders full access to their land while still allowing a national standard easement for rail road access.

Alaskans are entitled to use their land, this bill pushes back on unreasonable interpretation of the law - that has only happened in Alaska. Please give Alaskan property owners adjacent to the rail road back their land access and use.

As a public employee, who's duties require me to deal with some of the utilities that interface with the ARRC, I see a strong need for the changes to allow a more harmonious working relationship with the ARRC. I believe as a person who lives adjacent to the ARRC track and who has to permit and receive access to ARRC easements and land for my profession, I find that the proposed changes are sorely needed.

Testimony Before the Alaska House Judiciary Committee – April 5, 2018

My name is Robert Gastrock. I had hoped to provide these comments regarding HJR 38 in person, but am traveling out of the country and so am unable to be present or call in to provide personally. I respectfully request you accept this written statement as testimony in my absence.

My wife Judy and I have lived in South Anchorage for 45 years. In 1976, we moved to our home on Nora Drive. The Alaska Railroad right-of-way (ROW) passes over the rear portion of our lot, which is part of the original Sperstad Homestead.

We like the railroad. Our kids and grandkids still get excited whenever a train goes by, and we often join them in waving to the tourists as they pass, arriving in Alaska on their once-in-a-lifetime visit.

From the outset, we knew our property was burdened by the railroad ROW, ensuring uninhibited use for “railroad, telegraph, and telephone.” But we could access unused portions of our land in the ROW, as long as it did not impede safe rail operations. We have done so without incident for more than 40 years, including accessing the Flying Crown Airstrip (also a portion of the Sperstad Homestead). We are now told that the Railroad has “exclusive use” (EU) of the ROW (which is OUR PROPERTY), allowing them to fence off the entire 200 ft ROW, whether they are actually using it or not.

Significantly, our property rights were taken without due process. We were never informed that a possessory change was contemplated or implemented. This is a violation of our Constitutional rights under the 5th Amendment.

The Railroad argues that EU is necessary to ensure safe operations. Yet 80% of all railroads in the U.S. function full well under the guidelines of the Railroad Act of 1875, which established that railroads could operate safely with a simple easement over the property of others. How can the railroad begin to justify that charging landowners to use their own property ensures any safer operations? The answer: they can't! And that is why they embarrassingly withdrew the Railroad ROW Use Policy (RRUP) after they were caught with their hand in the cookie jar!

The Railroad has stated that losing EU rights will destroy their financial model. I thought their business was to profitably run a railroad, not make money as a land baron. How dare they argue that they are entitled to complete control of someone else's property in order to generate money for themselves?

With several others, I have spent time virtually every day to resolve this issue since I became aware of it more than 5 years ago. It is consuming my retirement years, and jeopardizes the value of our home, which we hope to sell within the next several years. We are tired of fighting a bureaucracy that doesn't seem to care about property rights or government overreach.

We have met personally with many public officials to request help restoring of our property rights, including Senator Murkowski, Rep. Young, Governor Walker, numerous State Legislators, and Mayor Berkowitz. All agree that a wrong was done, but none have stepped forward to fix the problem. I guess business alliances, political pressure, and the fear of losing campaign contributions are more important than protecting the rights of their constituents. That is sad.

Rep. Kopp is an exception, and a breath of fresh air. Since we explained the problem to him, two years ago, he has taken the moral high ground and worked tirelessly to correct the problem. As a result of his efforts, some symptoms of the disease, like RRUP, have been stifled – at least temporarily. But the disease persists. Until the EU claim is extinguished from lands previously conveyed to private parties, the problem will fester. Conflicting EU patents create clouds on titles, restrict reasonable enjoyment of our land, and diminish our property values.

HJR38 makes no attempt to deny the Alaska Railroad any property rights the federal government had the lawful right to transfer. What it does is call on appropriate agencies of the State and federal government to take appropriate measures to restore vested property rights and to disclaim any unlawfully acquired property. That simple.

The Judiciary Committee is in a position to recognize an ever growing number of Alaskans who now realize what has happened and are demanding that this wrong be righted. I urge you to endorse passage of HJR 38 as part of the effort to expeditiously restore our property rights.

Thank you,
